

Wednesday, August 19, 2020

AMC CG challenges MSC leaders during Project Inclusion update

REDSTONE ARSENAL, Ala. – After directing his 11 major subordinate commands to conduct 30-day self-assessments of the current diversity demographics within their organizations, Army Materiel Command's top leader Gen. Ed Daly met with his commanders Aug. 14 to discuss their outcomes. Daly charged the commanders in a July 23 meeting to embrace the Army's Project Inclusion initiative that seeks to improve inclusion and diversity across the force, and gave them a month to develop back-briefs on their assessments and action plans.

People first, Army priorities focus of JMC quarterly update

ROCK ISLAND ARSENAL, Ill. – The Joint Munitions Command's approach to operationalizing munitions readiness through Army and Army Materiel Command priorities was the focus during the quarterly update with Gen. Ed Daly, AMC commanding general. Col. Gavin Gardner, JMC commander, led the brief and highlighted strategic initiatives that drive desired effects and outputs that enable munitions readiness from the Strategic Support Area to the tactical point of need.

ACC fosters inclusion, highlights efforts to fight COVID-19

REDSTONE ARSENAL, Ala. – Army Contracting Command leadership and staff welcomed Gen. Edward Daly, commanding general of Army Materiel Command, to his first quarterly update with ACC, Aug. 7. Measures to improve ACC's inclusion and overall diversity and the command's efforts to fight the global pandemic topped a list of topics discussed at the briefing. Daly provided opening remarks by stating the importance for the organization to see itself. That vision will help frame problem sets and further help in the development of action plans.

AMC CG promotes Project Inclusion during quarterly visit

ROCK ISLAND ARSENAL, Ill. – To those gathered at the conference room table and dialing in from remote locations, the message from the Army Materiel Command's top leader came through loud and clear: Project Inclusion is a top priority, and is here for the long run. Gen. Ed Daly, AMC's commander, led a lengthy discussion of Project Inclusion at a briefing held during his quarterly visit to the Army Sustainment Command. The Aug. 11 visit was Daly's first to Rock Island Arsenal since taking command in July.

Army value of selfless service vital to ensuring mission success

REDSTONE ARSENAL, Ala. – In a nation founded on individual rights, the Army value of selfless service sets the standard of how those rights coexist alongside the need for the betterment of society as whole. Army Materiel Command employees recognize August as the organization's birth month, making it a good time to look at how the Army values impact the workplace and the readiness mission. AMC's success is ensured when the decisions made and actions taken in the workplace are viewed in terms of the principles behind the value of selfless service.

Eye On AMC

Wednesday, August 19, 2020

Materiel and installation enterprise maintain readiness

REDSTONE ARSENAL, Ala. – A recent deployment highlighted how the Army Materiel Command enterprise has made significant contributions in storage and transportation of equipment, and in ensuring the Army is trained and ready to fight, while simultaneously continuing the fight against COVID-19. AMC continues to keep transportation modes active, projecting personnel, equipment and supplies across the nation and globe to meet the Army

AMCOM creates board for diversity, inclusion matters

REDSTONE ARSENAL, Ala. – Before the kickoff of Project Inclusion, an Army-wide initiative to promote diversity, equity and inclusion, the Aviation and Missile Command had already begun local efforts to address concerns and achieve similar goals. Steps are underway to stand up AMCOM’s Employee Diversity Board. “It’s taken us some time to get it going,” said Kara Carter-Price, AMCOM Equal Employment Opportunity director.

Virtual summit connects civilian career program managers

REDSTONE ARSENAL, Ala. – Around 150 command and activity career program managers from across Army Materiel Command headquarters and major subordinate commands gathered virtually Aug. 11-13 to learn about reform initiatives within the Army’s People Strategy and share best practices to keep the civilian workforce engaged. The Career Program Managers Summit included civilian leaders of the Army’s 32 career programs.

Tooele partners with National Guard for munitions mission

TOOELE ARMY DEPOT, Utah – Tooele Army Depot got a little help accomplishing its mission from the very Warfighters it typically serves. The Utah National Guard’s 118th Transportation Battalion spent their yearly training on TEAD getting real world experience in transporting munitions. The 118th is one of the newest Guard units, and the partnership between TEAD and the company was a win for everyone involved.

Missile delivery bolsters national security, NATO alliance

REDSTONE ARSENAL, Ala. – The U.S. delivered nearly 100 Javelin anti-tank missiles to partner and NATO ally Estonia July 24. The $19 million case was executed as a DOD Building Partner Capacity program in support of foreign policy and European Command objectives. David Anderson, a central case manager in the EUCOM branch at the U.S. Army Security Assistance Command, called BPC programs and this case, critical to national security.

599th Trans. Bde. supports 3rd Marine Regiment upload

KAWAIHAE, Hawaii – Two 599th Transportation Brigade personnel traveled to Hawaii Island Aug. 5-8 to support the 3rd Marine Corps Regiment’s deployment to home station from the Pohakuloa Training Center. The 599th Brigade Operations directorate deployed Jimmy Quilon, traffic management specialist, and Marco Arboleda, marine cargo specialist, to act as single port managers during the upload at the Pohakuloa Training Center.

Focus on the Force

Fort Polk Soldiers awarded for work at North Fort Screening Site

Fort Rucker food services team keeping quarantined Soldiers well fed

New SDDC inspector general looks to create good bonds, teach, train

Operation Warp Speed on track for end-of-year vaccine

Army system successfully completes second missile intercept test

Drill sergeants to start receiving Army Greens this month